WANTED,

AN OVERSEER at Watboo, that understands making of Rice and Indico; and also can read and write. Enquire of Mr. ROBERT SWAINSTON, at Watboo, or of

ROBERT RAPER.

LONDON, JULY 13.

IT is generally believed the present Sheriffs, Messrs. Baker and Martin, will become two of the most popular favourites the present times have produced, as their private conduct is as amiable as their public is spirited and noble.

JULY 15.

It is confidently asserted that Lord Chatham is now busily employed in writing a memorial on the present state of the nation, which he means to present with his own hands to the Sovereign.

We hear that his royal highness the Duke of Gloucester will set sail on his intended voyage to the Mediterranean the 15th of next month; His royal highness will be accompanied by Gen. Harvey, and Col. Desaguliers.

On Saturday last an express arrived at the Admiraltry, with the agreeable news of the arrival in the Downs of the Endeavour, Capt. Cook, from the East Indies. This ship sailed in August 1768, with Mr. Banks, Dr. Solander, Mr. Green, and other ingenious gentlemen on board, for the South seas, to observe the transit of Venus; they have since made a voyage round the world, and touched at every coast and island, where it was possible to get on shore, to collect every species of plants and other rare productions in nature. Their voyage upon the whole has been as agreeable and successful as they could have expected, except the death of Mr. Green, who died upon his passage from Batavia: Dr. Solander has been a good deal indisposed, but it is hoped a few days refreshment will soon establish his health: Captain Cook, and Mr. Banks, are perfectly well.

JULY 16.

This Day Messrs. Wilkes and Bull, the sheriffs elect, gave bond to serve the said office.

We hear that a Nobleman of great fortune and connections, has resolved to take the declining trade of Jamaica under his protection; a circumstance that has put the inhabitants in high spirits.

JULY 18.

The Earl of Sandwich has appointed his brother, Admiral Montagu, now commander in North-America, Rear-Admiral of England, in the room of Admiral Holburne, deceased.

Notwithstanding, says a correspondent, we are continually amused with the wonderful works of the present administration, it is one of those melancholly truths that cannot long be concealed, that the colonies, and the mother country, are far from being restored to that happy understanding, which subsisted between them before the introduction of the stamp-act.

Bets are now most spiritedly circulated, respecting Mr. Wilkes's being sworn into office; as, notwithstanding, many are of opinion that neither the eloquence of a Cicero, nor the artifice of an Ephesian Matron can prove him ineligible, he will nevertheless be rejected.

The want of a supply of timber for the several Dock-Yards has long been complained of, to remedy which, several ships are now fitting out at Plymouth, for the importation of timber from America.

JULY 19.

Lord Bute was supposed to have a tolerable sweating the last installation, when he was installed himself; for on account of his being the junior Knight, his seat at the table accidentally happened to be among those Noblemen of the order, who were openly in opposition to his measures; consequently he was deprived of all that pleasure, which arises from free convivial conversation.—Next week Lord Bute is unavoidably obliged to walk arm in arm with Lord Temple: if Vinegar and Oil makes a palatable mixture, Lord Bute and Lord Temple, like flint and steel, may strike fire from each other.

JULY 20.

Dr. Solander and the other gentlemen, who lately sailed round the world in the Endeavour Frigate, spent four months at George's land, one of the new discovered islands. They made themselves masters of the language there, and two of the natives came with them to Batavia, where they were carried off by sickness, together with many of the crew. At Batavia the two strangers were amazingly struck with the sight of coaches and horses, having never seen either horses, cows, or sheep, at George's land, though they have many hogs. They were extremely surprised also at the sight of themselves and company in a looking-glass.

Dr. Solander and his company touched at near forty other undiscovered islands, not known to any other Europeans, but which have plenty of inhabitants; and have brought over with them above a thousand different species of plants, none of which were ever known in Europe before.

A gentleman who lately arrived from America, on learning the excessive high price of all manner of provisions in England, expressed his wonder that the labouring people did not move to our colonies abroad, as they might live there in a comfortable plenty, and leave the proud owners of wealth here to cultivate their lands themselves, which would lead them to a juster consideration of the poor.

It must give great pleasure to all lovers of wit, humanity, and science, to be told that Lord Chesterfield, notwithstanding his advanced age, is at present not only in perfect health, but also as serene and chearful as usual. To this his own happy disposition has doubtless not a little contributed, his Lordship having been observed never to be in a passion, nor in the least hurry on any occasion.

By private letters from Ireland we learn, that fresh tumults are daily fomenting by the Partisans of that country, which are not only an interruption to the tranquillity, but also the commercial interest of that kingdom.

Mr. Wilkes has within these few days paid several visits at the west end of the town, which it is expected, will furnish a crust for our politicians.

JULY 23.

We learn by the Endeavour, from the South-Seas, that they discovered a southern continent, in the latitude of the Dutch Spice-Islands; that the people were hospitable, ingenious and civil, of a copper complexion, but handsome and well-made. Mr. Banks passed some months among them; and though these people were so politely civilized, it is very extraordinary that they have no kind of worship or religion amongst them. Two of the natives came voluntarily with Mr. Banks, but died of the flux at Batavia. From this voyage we expect many discoveries, and much entertainment. They had an excellent observation of the Transit of Venus; but the ingenious Mr. Green died upon his return. Upon their arrival, the Admiralty seized all the officers papers. In consequence of this discovery more ships will be destined in search of this new terrestrial acquisition; and it is to be hoped the ministry will select men with Heads, as well as Hearts, to accomplish such a voyage.

JULY 24.

We hear the Common Hall will not be called till Michaelmas day, when his Majesty's answer will be laid before the Livery, and other business relating to the imprisonment of the Lord-Mayor and Mr. Oliver in the Tower, taken into consideration.

JULY 25.

Since the arrival of the Earl of Bute, bets are greatly in favour of the present ministry, as harmony and conciliating measures are strongly recommended to them.

The report of General Paoli's preparing to go into the King of Denmark's service, is so far from being true, that he is to reside here till a war breaks out between us and the French, and then he hopes to go with an English army to Corsica, to deliver his countrymen from the tyrannical yoke of the Bourbon slavery.

Conductors are ordered to be fixed to the Royal Exchange, to prevent its receiving any damage from lightening.

JULY 26.

Yesterday their Royal Highnesses the Prince of Wales, Bishop of Osnaburg, and Duke of Cumberland; their Serene Highnesses the Duke of Mecklenburg Strelitz, and Hereditary Prince of Brunswick; the Dukes of Marlborough and Grafton, the Earl of Albemarle, and Earl Gower, were installed at Windsor, Knights of the most noble Order of the Garter.

Lord Chatham, we he hear, was lately informed, that he might have the next vacant Garter, for asking; but he answered, that, when he recollected the Things upon whom the Order was hourly conferred, he thought it a disgrace to any man of honour or sensibility.

His Majesty's Ship the Endeavour, which is lately arrived in the river from the East-Indies, (where she has been with the three Astronomers on the Transit of Venus, &c.) lost, by unhealthfulness of the climate, seventy of her hands, though they were picked men, and had been several times in the Indies.——However, those that survive, will have made their fortunes by traffic, having brought home some of the richest goods made in the East, which they are suffered to dispose of without the inspection of custom-house officers. This, our correspondent says, is allowed them, as a reward for their hard and dangerous services, during a voyage of three years.

JULY 27.

A letter from Paris, dated the 18th instant says, "It is this moment the report of the whole town, that last night a little before twelve, Chancellur Maupeon was shot at in his carriage, as it was turning the corner of the Rue de Louis le Grand. The place is in an uproar about this alarming incident, and the Lieutenant de Police has been sent for to Versailles."

One day last week died Mr. Fleming, factor at Liverpool, aged one hundred and twenty-eight years; he retained his senses to the last, and has left upwards of 70 grand-children and great-grand-children behind him, but of his own immediate descendants only two survive him, viz. a son and daughter, who are both upwards of an hundred years of age.

JULY 29.

Last Saturday's Gazette contains his Majesty's order in council for proroguing the Parliament to the first of October next.

JULY 30.

Yesterday morning arrived in town from his seat at Chiselhurst in Kent, the Right Honourable Lord Camden.

Sir Fletcher Norton, it is said, has had an Irish peerage offered him, but seems at present rather disinclined to accept it—probably from higher views.

The Parliament is expected to meet very early this winter, some important matters requiring a speedy and thorough agitation.

Among other matters, the declining trade of Jamaica will be recommended to consideration, and ways and means will be proposed for restoring it to its former brilliancy.

A private letter from Ireland says, that the Irish parliament being assembled so late last spring, was to appease the people, whose intentions were to have been as troublesome with their petitions, &c. for redress of grievances, as their fellow-subjects on this side of the water.

The Earl of Hillsborough proposes setting out for Ireland on Sunday next, to examine the condition of his estate in that kingdom.

HAMBURGH, July 19. This city is at present exposed to a melancholly scene of distress. All the beautiful and rich vale from hence to Lauenburgh is overflowed by an inundation of the Elbe. The water already comes into one of the gates of the city; and the inhabitants are alarmed lest it should break the dam, which has been strengthened by several thousand sacks of sand that separate it from Alster; were it to overflow, the greatest part of the city would be under water, and the damage to the houses and ware-houses would be very great. The waters have risen from the 17th to yesterday morning fifteen inches.—The senate held an extraordinary assembly, which lasted till four o'clock in the afternoon, to consider of the means of preventing this mischief, and came to the resolution of making three slopes in the great dyke of the Elbe, that the waters might empty themselves into that river. The suburbs, which extend themselves two English miles on that side, with fine country-houses and gardens, are all under water, which is of such a height, that nothing is to be seen but the tops of the trees, and the great road which leads to Berlin is impassable. We are by this deprived of all the fruits and vegetables, as well as forage for the horses and cattle, with which this city used to be supplied from thence: And the loss of the rich crops of corn, by which the people expected to be relieved from the dearneſs of it, is a melancholy event, of which bad conſequences cannot but be apprehended. The damage the city has already ſuſtained, is computed at two hundred thouſand pounds Sterling. The price of all kinds of proviſions is daily increaſing; and a thouſand pounds weight of hay, which uſed to be ſold from fourteen ſhillings to ſixteen ſhillings, is not to be had at preſent for leſs than three pounds Sterling. A public faſt is ordered on Sunday the 28th inſtant, on account of this calamity.

AUGUST 1.

Four more ſhips of war, we are told, are to be ſent as ſoon as poſſible to join Admiral Harland in the Eaſt-Indies; the like number to re-inforce Admiral Rodney at Jamaica; and others are to be ſent to the Mediterranean. A ſquadron alſo is to be fitted out for the South Seas, and ſeveral cruizers are to be employed in the Baltic and other places.

It is ſaid, that a certain Viceroy ſeems ſo much at home, and has made himſelf ſo perfectly maſter of his buſineſs, that it would be both cruel and impolitic to recal him to this ſide the water.

A great placeman, now on his journey to Ireland, we are told, carries with him inſtructions of ſo private and particular a nature for a perſon in high office there, that it was judged unſafe to convey them by any other channel.

The Earl of Hertford will viſit the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, at Dublin, before his Lordſhip proceeds to view his eſtate in the North there.

No two noblemen in the oppoſition, it is ſaid, are ſo highly eſteemed by a Great Perſonage, as the duke of Northumberland and the Marquis of Rockingham.

The ſummons the Lord Chancellor received at his ſeat Fairy-Hill, to attend a private council, has given riſe to many conjectures; but though the particular cauſe is impenetrable, it is affirmed without ſcruple, to be, by no means, either of a pleaſing or advantageous nature.

Yeſterday the Earl of Bute arrived at his houſe in South-Audley ſtreet from Bedfordſhire, having been ſent for on ſome important matters.

Tueſday a great number of Noblemen and Gentlemen, Engliſh and Iriſh, ſet out from the weſt end of the town for Ireland.

AUGUST 3.

A clothier in Yorkſhire has ſent Mr. Wilkes up a preſent of cloth to make his liveries—the patriotic taylor of Leiceſter fields has offered to make them gratis; and an eminent dyer in the Borough, not to be behind hand in patriotiſm, (as the cloth was white) has engaged to dye them of a true blue, and (from Mr. Wilkes's regard for the American colonies) with Carolina Indico.

It is now certain, that another remonſtrance is in contemplation, wherein, it is ſaid, the Lord Chamberlain's letter to the Citizens, with their conſequential reception at St. James's, will have a capital place.

The conſtitution, ſays a popular Lord, muſt be ruined where the miniſters and the miniſter's wives are equally vicious; are there no hopes, ſays a by-ſtander; very forlorn indeed, replies the Lord, when it is, "Heads we don't win, Tails we loſe."

RATISBON, July 20. The laſt letters from Munich adviſe, that the ſcarcity of proviſions is ſo great, that the inhabitants through exceſs of hunger have attempted in ſeveral places to cut the corn even before it was ripe, and that ſoldiers were obliged to be poſted in the fields to prevent their proceeding to ſuch extremities.

PARIS, July 26. The King, in order to leſſen his expences, is going immediately to diſcharge the Gendarmes, Carabiniers, and Grenadiers of France. If this reformation takes place, it will reſtore a great many uſeful hands to agriculture.—"Query; might not the precedent be as uſefully followed this ſide of the water?"

LONDON, AUGUST 5.

Dr. Cadogan declares that no phyſician, to do his patients juſtice, can viſit more than five a day. His rule, we hear, is to give every patient an hour at leaſt—ſometimes two; and he declares that feeling the pulſe upon immediate entrance is injudicious; as the mere ſight of a doctor occaſions an alteration in the blood of the afflicted perſon, which ſhould have time to compoſe, before the opinion is given on the caſe.

Offers have been made to Lord Chatham, and likewiſe to Lord Camden, which prevented the Lord Chancellor's going into Glouceſterſhire. His Lordſhip propoſed going the morning after the inſtallation, and to have gone laſt Friday, on which day Lord Suffolk was with him ſeveral hours, at his ſeat at Fairy-Hill. However, Sunday morning his Lordſhip ſet out from Fairy-Hill for Cirenceſter in Glouceſterſhire, on a viſit to his father, Lord Bathurſt.

It is confidently aſſerted, that the Duke of Glouceſter's voyage to the Mediterranean is merely political; and that he is charged with an important commiſſion to the court of Turin.

Amongſt the many who are now reaching at the ſeals, Lord Mansfield is talked of as the moſt likely to ſucceed, from his poſſeſſing ſeveral ſuperior recommendations.

Lord Barrington, it is reported, will ſpeedily reſign his poſt of Secretary at War on a penſion of 2000l. per annum on the Iriſh eſtabliſhment, and be ſucceeded by Lord Weymouth.

It is confidently ſaid, that notwithſtanding the differences which have for ſome time ſubſiſted between Mr. Wilkes and the three patriotic Aldermen, they are all agreed to unite in ſupport of the popular cauſe in the enſuing winter.

Should the inſtructions, ſaid to be ſo privately conveyed to a certain Viceroy, at the ſame time that they are ſaid to be ſo highly conſequential, produce any outrages amongſt the populace, the report is, that the principal offenders are to be hanged, in terrorem, before the face of the adherents, without the parade and formality of judge and jury.

Jemmy Twitcher, it is ſaid, has undertaken, for a great wager, to make his old friend Mr. Wilkes a good courtier before the expiration of his ſhrievalty.

The Seaford and Creſcent men of war are ordered round to Portſmouth to take on board troops for New-York, on which ſtation they are to continue three years.

AUGUST 8.

The meeting of the ſociety of the bill of rights laſt night, we are told, was for the purpoſe of drawing up a new remonſtrance, though they are reported to have received many advantageous overtures on the ſimple condition of foregoing that reſolution.

Sunday laſt a ſermon was preached, by a patriotic clergyman, at a church in the city, who concluded his diſcourſe with the following words: "This I may affirm, in concluſion, that well and wiſely governed nations; ſuch as have not corrupt, venal and laſcivious miniſters; evil, deſigning and ignorant counſellors; but on the contrary, ſuch as have honeſt and impartial Judges; vigilant and diſintereſted magiſtrates, will never be over-run with thieves and robbers, rogues and vagabonds, locuſts and caterpillars.—In a word, let the wicked be taken from before the King, that his throne may be eſtabliſhed in righteouſneſs; then ſhall joy and exultation re-viſit our long deſerted dwellings, and terror and diſmay ſhake the manſions of our enemies."

Yeſterday the Earl of Rochford had a long conference with his Majeſty at Richmond.

RUNAWAY,

From the Subscriber's Plantation in St. STEPHEN's Parish, in the Night of WEDNESDAY the Second Instant, the following NEGROES, viz.

A Negro Man, named SAUL, or SOLOMON but commonly called Saul; and a Wench named CHARLOTTE, with a Male Child at her Breast, about eight Months old.—Saul is a tall, likely black Fellow, with a large Beard; speaks very proper English; is sensible, 25 or 30 Years of Age, and a Cooper by Trade.—Charlotte, his Wife, is a likely sensible Wench, not above Nineteen or Twenty Years of Age, of a yellowish Complexion, with a Scar on her Forehead; has always been brought up to the House, and is an extraordinary Seamstress. They were both lately cloathed with Osnabrugs, and bought, some time last Winter, by Mr. John Edwards, at Mr. Levy's up the Path, at the Sale of the late Captain North's Estate, and purchased from Mr. Edwards by the Subscriber. They took with them, a small mouse-coloured HORSE, branded with Capt. North's brand, with Saddle, Bridle, and all the Effects they had, it is supposed, with an Intent never to return to their Owner. They were perceived the next Morning, and tracked several Miles, making towards the Southward, where it is imagined they are gone; and, as they have Frieuds and Relations about Ponpon, it is likely they will be harboured there.

Whoever will apprehend the said Run-Aways, and deliver them, or either of them, to the Warden of the Work-House, or to the Subscriber, in Charles-Town, shall receive for SAUL TEN POUNDS, and for the Wench and Child TEN POUNDS, or TWENTY POUNDS for the Three, and all reasonable Charges.

Also ran away from the Subscriber's Plantation, on the 7th Day of June last, a Negro Fellow named FORTUNE, a likely, slim, active, black Fellow, about thirty-five Years of Age, formerly the Property of Mr. Adam Stewart, of St. Stephen's Parish, deceased; notoriously known for his Villainy in many Parts of the Province, and remarkable for stuttering and stammering in his Speech; as he can scarce utter a Word properly; his common Apparel was, a short blue Jacket, white Negro Cloth Robbin, and Osnabrug Breeches. Whoever will apprehend this Run-Away, and delivers him as aforesaid, shall receive a Reward of TWENTY POUNDS Currency, from

PETER PORCHER.

ONE HUNDRED POUNDS Reward.

RUN-AWAY from the subscriber, about three months ago, his Negro Boy JOE:—he is rather of the mustee kind, well known in Charles-Town, and also by many persons in the country, having worked at the Jewellers trade during the time the subscriber carried on business in Broad-street: He is a very sensible arch boy, about fifteen years old, and does not tell for his age;—by various reports of him, it seems, that he was seen with a white man in Dorchester, then again on Indian Land near Port-Royal, where having robbed a plantation, he was pursued and shot in the woods, which might only be given out as a blind, that it might not for certain be known where he is harboured. Whoever takes him up and delivers him to the subscriber in Charles-Town, shall have TEN POUNDS reward, and if discovered to be harboured and carried off by a white person, on conviction and full proof thereof, they shall be intitled to the above reward of ONE HUNDRED POUNDS, and if by negro, to TEN POUNDS.

The latter is about six feet high, well made, and about twenty years of age. It is supposed they are both harboured at some of the cow-pens in the back settlements. A reward of TWENTY POUNDS will be paid on the delivery of each or either of the said Run-aways to me, or the warden of the work-house in Charles-Town, and all reasonable charges. MAY is an old offender, and may not easily be taken, therefore I offer ONE HUNDRED POUNDS for his head.
